Chemical designation / Synonyms	Product description
NaHCO3 E500 (ii) Natron Sodium bicarbonate Baking soda Bullrich salt	Sodium hydrogen carbonate is a colorless or white sodium salt of carbonic acid. It occurs naturally and can be obtained by bringing about a chemical reaction.
	Sodium hydrogen carbonate can be used as an acidity regulator and leavening agent.
	Sodium hydrogen carbonate is used in the areas of foods, food supplements and pharmaceuticals.